Women build links

The Sydney Women's Network is in its third year and growing.

"The group is helping to meet the demand for women's business networks and support," said co-founder Natalie Moutia,

This year the network ran four expos, in the Hills, Parramatta, Penrith and on the Central Coast.

The network started in 2008 by offering monthly lunches that have now grown to 100 a year in 12 locations.

The Sydney Women's Network also held business retreats, speed networking nights, workshops, online learning and other special events for members.

"We are now looking at holding networking lunches in other key areas throughout Sydney and expanding into other regional areas in NSW," Ms Moutia said.
