News presenter, author our Australia Day ambassador

STORY: Stuart Carless

NEWS presenter, author and columnist Jacinta Tynan has been named as this year's Australia Day ambassador for the Milton-Ulladulla region.

Tynan, a presenter on Sky News Australia, will be the guest speaker at the Australia Day celebrations at Mollymook on January 26.

The event is being hosted by the Ulladulla Milton Lions Club with sponsorship provided by Shoalhaven City Council and will kick off at 9am.

Entry will be free of charge.

Tynan's first book 'Good Man Hunting' - published by Random House in 2005 - is a memoir about love and finding 'The One'.

It earned her the accolade of 'Australia's answer to Carrie Bradshaw' in the Sydney Morning Herald but also generated a large and loyal following.

Her second offering, 'Some Girls Do: My life as a teenager', is an anthology of top Australian female authors writing the true story of their adolescence.

Royalties from the book are going to SISTER2Sister - a mentoring program for disadvantaged teenage girls.

Tynan was a 'Big Sister' in the program's second year and remains actively involved as an ambassador.

The Charles Sturt University graduate started her television career on regional stations before accepting a job in Darwin with ABC TV, eventually making the move to Sky News Australia where she has remained since 2005.

She has appeared on a range of shows including Today Tonight's special on Australia's Most Influential Women and Insight (SBS) and is a regular guest on Mornings With Kerry Anne.

She also played a news presenter on the Chaser series.

Tynan contributes regularly to publications such as Madison, Sunday Life and Women's Health and is currently working on her first fiction novel.

She is also a keen actor.

AMBASSADOR: Jacinta Tynan.
